UNCANNY AERIAL WORK OF LOCALS LOWERS PURCELL

Ada Hi Tastes Revenge for Defeat From Visitors
Last Season.

PASSING IS SURPRISE

Potts, Cuning, McCoy and Rayburn Star Friday in 27 to 12 Victory.

From every standpoint it was the best game played this season on the high school gridiron, the game in which Ada pounded a victory from the Purcell football team evening up the nasty defeat handed them by Purcell last year. So far as thrills are concerned, it had plenty.

Coach Cox's men fought hard for their victory and won it by a score of 27 to 12. The fight began early in the first quarter. Ada did not open her terrific smashes until Purcell had broken through for a touch down. From this time on, it was Ada's game. The locals held their mysterious aerial attack in reserve until later but began a pounding of the Purcell line that netted gains from both ends and over center. This hammering continued through out the game.

On the offensive, Ada showed her best stuff so far this season. With Potts hitting the line for almost continued gains, Cuning making it around the end, Carr bucking the line for good gains and "Midcet" McCoy getting through for passes, the Purcell line and backs were unable to stop the onslaught. On the defensive, Ada high held Purcell for downs at the few critical points after the visitors' first touchdown.

The first touchdown, made by Bell, Purcell, in the first quarter, was followed by a touchdown by Potts, Ada, in the second quarter. After this Ada made a strong bid to repeat, but the desperate effort by Purcell to hold the local team, prevented further scoring in the first half. The ball was within 7 yards of the visitors' goal line as the period ended. Purcell 6, Ada 7.

Attack Renewed.

Ed Brents' Purcell hopes entered the second half with clearly evident resolve to score again and regain the lead which they lost by missing goal after the touchdown.

It was here that Ada, on testing out their pass ability in the second period, launched an aerial battle that carried the ball rapidly down the field. Rayburn, Ada end, and McCoy, Ada quarter back, drew the ball out of the air for substantial gains.

During the third period Potts and Cuning scored touchdowns, putting Ada well in the lead. Purcell attempted an air bombardment of their own but it fizzled weakly. Purcell's line backs failed in their punch in the first half and repeated attempts to smash the Ada line were fruitless. The invaders could not stop the line smashing of Potts, who battered the line viciously.

Something resembling a sensation came in the fourth quarter when Gregg, Ada end, broke through the Purcell line on a fourth down kick formation, blocked the ball, and raced 60 yards for a touchdown. This was the longest run of the game. He was followed closely by the Purcell safety who pounced on the Ada man's back as he reached the goal line. Purcell scored another touchdown in this period. It was on a kick which Ada missed.

Visitors Plucky.

Brents' Purcell squad was made up of good fighters, and although weakened by the loss of their quarterback in the third period, they fought until the last minute. Only one change was made in the Ada line, A. Nettles going in for Burk in the fourth quarter. Burk suffered an injury knee.

Little Rayburn at end was the tackling mystery of the game. He also started on receiving passes. He was at the end of six completed passes, for a total of more than 100 yards. McCoy came next in catching passes, getting four for a gain of over 40 yards. Cuning and Potts also got a pass each, making long gains. Carr, Ada half back, did not carry the ball for a touchdown, but his hard line hitting put the ball within striking distance more than once. Potts and Cuning played well in the back field, doing great work on the straight football formation. McCoy's headwork was also a factor in the victory. At no time did he give the visitors an opportunity to get an advantage on a faulty play. Gregg surprised fans by his unexpected touchdown.

A disappointment of the game was the continual penalties assessed the Ada team. Twelve times during the game Ada was penalized on off-side counts, six of them being in succession in the fourth quarter. This gave Purcell an advantage in this quarter.

BOY OF 17, CONFESSED
SLAYER, ASKS CHAIR

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 20.—Roy Parse, 17-year-old confessed slayer of his school girl sweetheart, who is in the Terre Haute jail awaiting trial on a charge of first degree murder, has asked Governor McCray to "send him to the electric chair." In a letter to the governor, the boy says:

"If I wanted to live, I would not ask for the chair. I am asking you to send me to the electric chair. For any one in for first degree murder would get life imprisonment or death. I want death. See if you can get me the electric chair instead of life imprisonment. I am 17 years old, but that doesn't matter any."

FORMER EMPEROR BACK TO THRONE?

Charles of Austria Reported
Advancing on Budapest
With Troops.

(By the Associated Press)

VIENNA, Oct. 22.—Former Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary arrived at Ostenburg, Burgenland, Friday afternoon in an airplane from Switzerland, according to Ostenburg messages received today, and is reported to be proceeding to Budapest, escorted by eastern troops of Ostenburg. A provisional government, the advisers stated, has been formed in Burgenland, in the ex-emperor's interests, under the Count Julius Andrássy, former Austria-Hungarian foreign minister.

The district of the Burgenland is the disputed territory lying along the frontier between Austria and Hungary. It was awarded to Austria but was occupied some months ago by Hungarian irregular troops, the situation there being similar to that in Fiume when that city was under the control of Capt. d'Annunzio. At a conference held in Venice last week it was decided that Burgenland should be turned over to Austria, but that Ostenburg and its surrounding district should hold its conference to decide the future status of that immediate territory. Hungarian leaders, particularly former Premier Griederich, declared they would not withdraw Hungarian troops in this district.

Behind the attempt of the Hungarian leaders to retain possession of Burgenland there has been threats of a return to West Hungary of former Emperor Charles.

HUNGARY WILL TRY TO EXPEL MONARCH

(By the Associated Press)

PARIS, Oct. 22.—The Hungarian government will act as it did on the occasion of the previous attempt of former Emperor Charles to resume the throne in Hungary, according to information obtained here today, and will take measures to expel the former monarch from Hungarian territory, it declared.

PARIS POLICE TO GUARD AMERICAN
EMBASSY SUNDAY

(By the Associated Press)

PARIS, Oct. 22.—The French government took action today with the intention of preventing the demonstrations before the American embassy here Sunday, planned by communists as a spectacular move in connection with the protest against the Sacco-Vanzetti murder conviction in the United States.

The communists leaders have been informed by authorities that the proposed demonstration would not be permitted, this action being taken in pursuance of decisions reached at a cabinet council presided over by President Millerand yesterday.

Notwithstanding the government's move, the communists organization continued with the plans to have the demonstration to go on with their arrangements and their leaders have instructed their followers to meet tomorrow at 3 o'clock.

With these arrangements the police are taking "all necessary measures" to suppress the demonstration.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The administration bill for funding the $500,000,000 railroad debt was reported favorably today by the senate interstate commerce commission with amendments by Senator Cummins, republican, Iowa, chairman of the board of financial operations.

FATE OF STEWART NOW UP TO JURY

Defense Attempts To Prove
Defendant Was Not One
In Alleged Ring.

Ed Stewart, on trial for the theft of an automobile early last July from L. A. Thomason of Allen, was found guilty by a jury in the district court this afternoon and a sentence of 10 years was recommended. Eugene Augustus and Claude Hall are yet to be tried on the same charge.

Sentence for Stewart probably will be pronounced within the next few days by District Judge J. W. Bolen.

Arguments of attorneys were scheduled to end shortly afternoon today and the immediate future of Ed Stewart, alleged to have been connected in a conspiracy here last summer to steal cars, will be in the hands of the jury.

Pleadings in the trial opened late yesterday and were more than half completed in a session last night. Attorneys John Crawford, D. W. Huffer and U. G. Winn are representing Stewart and the prosecution is being carried out by County Attorney Wayne Wadlington and Assistant County Attorney Hugh F. Mathis.

Closing hours of the defense's testimony was directed at an attempt to show that L. A. Thomason, owner of the car alleged to have been stolen by Ed Stewart, Eugene Augustus and Claude Hall, purposefully allowed the machine to drop from sight in order that insurance could be collected. Throughout the afternoon, counsels for Stewart battled to clear the defendant from complicity with the alleged ring, which, it is believed by officers, was connected with even a larger gang that spirited cars away after they had been stolen.

District Judge J. W. Bolen sent his instructions to the jury last night. Attorneys Huffer and Winn opened with speeches this morning and County Attorney Wadlington was due to close the prosecution soon after 12 o'clock.

Much testimony was given by the state in the case went back on Jack Hayes, alleged leader in the "ring" who has not been arrested. For two days both sides have striven to separate Hayes from the case and much of the testimony given by witnesses in the preliminary hearing, in which Augustus and Hall also were included, had to be eliminated from consideration as it had no bearing on Stewart.

TEACHERS FLOCK TO CITY FRIDAY FOR CONVENTION

Pontotoc county teachers are being taught.

Almost 200 of them registered at East Central Normal Friday to be present and participate in the two days session of the Pontotoc County Teachers association.

The first session was held in the Normal auditorium last night, a good attendance being recorded. Dr. Howell of Oklahoma A. & M. college was one of the principal speakers, his subject being Americanism. President G. W. Austin of the Oklahoma College for Women, Chickasha also spoke.

Prof. J. L. German, superintendent of schools at Roff, talked Friday night on the duties of a teacher. Today's sessions of the meeting were explained in advance last night and the meeting adjourned to assemble again this morning.

Most of the work for the meeting today consisted of departmental sessions. Considerable interest was being shown in the various meetings and the attendance today was even better than yesterday. This final plans for the entertaining of other counties of the district during the district meeting here in November are being made.

County Superintendent A. Floyd will be the last day of the meeting had charge generally of the meeting today.

At the conclusion of the evening program the teachers and friends spent an informal hour and were served with delicious refreshments provided by the domestic teachers of the city and county. Mrs. Charlie Bobbitt, and Misses Edna Spriggs, Bertha Coleman and Martha Merrill.

The programs of the various sections were carried out this morning without a hitch, practically every one on duty being present and prepared. History, agriculture, domestic science and organizing small high schools were discussed. C. W. White, of Vanoss, W. A. Morgan of Lula, Misses Edna Spriggs of Roff, Bertha Coleman and Martha Merrill, and Prof. A. L. Fentem leading the discussions which were then taken up by others.

In the intermediate section E. H. Gillerman of Latta and E. B. Hickey of Stonewall were the principal speakers and Miss Kate Knight of the department of mathematics of the normal made an urgent plea for a better degree of thoroughness in the teaching of arithmetic. Supt. Floyd also spoke briefly on educational progress in the school work of the county.

The discussions in the primary department were pronounced most excellent, by those present. Mrs. Pul Sturdevant of Vanoss, Mrs. Alpha Young of New Bethel and Miss Cora Wilson read papers on subjects related to primary work.

The business session was called to order at 11 o'clock and President Linscheid, who was unable to be present the evening before, delivered a short address. The resolution committee then made its report.

TEXAS DIRECTED ON STRIKE PLAN

Additional U. S. Marshals
May Be Employed To Keep Order.

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Instructions covering the course of action to be pursued by the federal authorities in Texas if the strike on the International and Great Northern railroad called for noon today is carried out, were in preparation this afternoon at the department of justice.

Acting Attorney General Goff called a conference of high justice department officials this morning to consider the railroad situation in Texas and, officials said, the department's order would go to San Antonio upon the conclusion of the conference.

These instructions, officials said, would probably authorize the district attorney to employ additional United States marshals to assist in the preservation of order but beyond this officials were inclined to believe that the department would not take any action.

As yet, it was started, no request had been forthcoming from the railroad labor board for the department to act in the Texas situation. Without a request from the railroad labor board, it was indicated, the justice department would take no steps beyond the usual course pursued by the federal government where a strike of any considerable proportions takes place.

LABOR BOARD TO TAKE
NO ACTION ON I. & G. N.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The United States railroad labor board probably will take no immediate action if the trainmen of the International & Great Northern carried out their announced intention to strike at noon today, member of the board state this morning.

"If they go out today they are in defiance of the board's order of yesterday," G. W. Hanger, member of the board said.

It is probable, however, that the board will defer action until after the hearing here next Wednesday, when the big four brotherhoods, the switchmen's union and all class "A" roads have been cited to appear.

Will Start on Time.

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 22.—"The I. & G. N. brakemen and switchmen will go out at noon today 100 per cent," R. D. Frame, general chairman of the trainmen's brotherhood committee said at ten o'clock this morning. "I have received no word from Mr. Lee and the strike will begin on schedule time," he added. There will be no roudism, Mr. Frame reiterated.

PROTECTION IS ASKED FROM DEVILISH MACHINE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—A demand for protection by capital police from automobiles and that "devilish Machine known as the motorcycle," was made in the Senate today by Senator Watson, Democrat, Georgia.

Referring to the Stars and Stripes floating from the capitol dome, as a guarantee of "life, liberty and limb," the Georgia senator, with fervid oratory, declared that senators were compelled to jump from in front of motor vehicles and that tourists and other visitors also were imperilled. The capitol police, he asserted, gave virtually no protection against motor vehicles, and also, he charged, permitted roaming dogs to chase the pet squirrel in the capitol grounds.

CITY SCOUTS ARE ACTIVE WORKERS

Busby Submits Program
That Ada Troops Have Carried Out.

A list of accomplishments of Boy Scouts of Ada during the past year was made up and announced Saturday morning by Judge Orel Busby, president of the local Scout Council, showing the organization here to be one of the most effective civic units of the city.

Following is Judge Busby's statement:

"A good scout is one that knows how to work as well as play. Under the direction of Scout Executive Miller, Boy Scouts of Ada have done considerable work during the past year. One hundred and four of them did carpenter work on the Boy Scout lodge. Scouts white washed about 1,500 trees last spring. They cleaned up Glenwood park. They assisted the Cemetery association by cutting down all of the weeds along the fence both inside and out all around the cemetery. By reason of the credit system, 83 scouts at one time were carrying bank accounts.

"Anti-spit cards were distributed on the streets of Ada twice. They aided the American Legion and the United Charities in their drive for clothing for the poor. They dug up the flower beds on Twelfth Street and planted flowers and shrubbery and kept the grass mowed for about four months.

"Two programs were given in Ada churches and a father and scout banquer was held. Mothers of the Scouts were their guests at one of the churches when a practical demonstration of Scout work was given. A program of one week of scout activities was thus fulfilled. A play was given by one troop and three public awarding of badges were made. The Boy Scout band gave concerts in Allen, Francis and Pitzhugh and the scouts, in a dignified fashion, celebrated the inauguration of President Harding on the streets of Ada and appropriately observed the 134th anniversary of the American constitution.

"The Court of Honor met for several weeks straight, examined candidates in merit badge subjects and awarded 304 badges to 28 of Ada's first class Scouts. Forty-eight boys passed from tenderfoot rank to that of second class and three Ada's first class scouts, forty-one, in the coveted honor of the highest rank in scouting—namely that of Eagle Scout.

"In addition to this about 150 of Ada's boys were taken out camping this summer. In four different groups and every troop of Scouts in the county had some kind of camping trip, either at the lodge at the city lake or elsewhere. Starting with about 23 boys under this Council at Ada and bringing it up to about 200 Scouts and 100 Wolf Cubs in Ada and about 200 additional scouts in the county is quite an achievement for one year's work. This is especially so when we consider the many other activities provided for the boys under the supervision of the Pontotoc County Council of Boy Scouts, the work being directed by Scout Executive Harry Miller."

A late announcement today was made that the Pesagi Queen contest, now in progress between the classes at the East Central Normal, would be continued until next Tuesday evening. Instead of closing this evening as was first announced. This extension of time was granted on account of the football teams being out of the city yesterday and today.

The last report showed Miss Verla Cobb, senior class candidate, to be leading by a good majority. Miss Francis Case was the runner up. She was closely followed by Miss Dona Bell Lee. Interest in the contest has not been as evident as it was last year but with the return of the college men from the football gridiron, it is expected to grow in interest.

RATE SLASH FOR GRAINS ORDERED BY COMMISSION

Decision Embraces All of Western States; Hay
Is Included.

TO START BY NOV. 20

Farmers Advised to Curtail Shipment of Grain Until Strike Is Settled.

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—In a sweeping decision involving the entire railroad situation wage scale and depression in industry and finance, the interstate commerce commission today ordered the freight rates on grain, grain products and hay throughout the west half of the United States reduced by an average of approximately 16 per cent.

The commission also found the present rates on coarser grains, including oats, rye, corn and millet, to be unjust and unreasonable and ordered it to be fixed generally at ten per cent less than the rates for products of wheat.

The railroads were directed to make the reduction "as soon as practicable and not later than November 20, 1921."

Rates on commodities recognized as products of the named grains, including flour, feed and finished or semi-finished products, the commission said, would be unjust and unreasonable unless reduced to relations corresponding to the rates on the raw materials. The decrease, though chiefly effecting producing territory in the west, would make rate reductions in certain portions of the eastern territory necessary.

FARMERS WARNED NOT TO SHIP GRAIN NOW

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Cash grain handlers in the Chicago board of trade today cautioned farmers against free shipments of grain at this time, because of the danger of a general railroad strike. Particular stress was laid in the danger of shipping new corn and other grains that might deteriorate.

Plans of the big five packers have been completed and all warehouses and cold storage plants are being stocked to capacity with fresh meats while a system of distribution by truck is being worked out.

CAUSES FOR RAILWAY STRIKE ARE OUTLINED

CLEVELAND, Oct. 22.—Causes for the strike of railroad workers, set to begin in general at 6 a. m. October 30, are enumerated by W. G. Lee, president of the brotherhood of railroad trainmen, in a statement to the Associated Press today.

His statement was issued, it was explained, because "the public is rather confused, as to its causes" some believing it is for higher wages."

The causes are according to Mr. Lee:

"First: the wage reduction of July 1.

"Second: the further proposed reductions.

"Third: the proposed elimination of the rules which would mean still further reductions."

The three local railroad union chiefs, Lee of the trainmen, Warren S. Stone of the brotherhood of locomotive engineers, and W. S. Carter of the brotherhood of firemen and engineers, while preparing to obey the citation to appear before the board in Chicago next Wednesday, were also going ahead with the plans to carry out the strike.

Anticipated by statements in official quarters bearing upon the strike of the railroad brotherhoods, the decision was rendered in the case brought to the commission September 3, by 24 western states and agricultural organizations. The commission unanimously held with the states' petition for reductions, though conceding the difficult financial situation of the railroads.

The increases in 1920 gave the carriers a 35 percent advance in the Mississippi valley and western territory and a 25 percent advance within the mountain and Pacific and 33 1-3 percent advance on commodities moving across the divide of which half is now taken away.

Lungs in a perfectly healthy state are very rare, according to the curator of a Parison medical institute.

Each female salmon yields approximately 3,500 eggs each year.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

HOW TO OVERCOME EVIL:—Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love; in honour preferring one another; recompense to no man evil for evil. Provide things honest in the sight of all men. Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.—Romans 12.

FORGOT HE WAS IN CITY

Arresting eighty-seven people in two days is the record of the police of Shawnee. Sixty-seven of these ordinance violators were held for transgressing the city's laws for lighting of automobiles and "jay-walking." Ten were held for disturbing the peace, two for drunkenness and eight for gambling and loitering.—Shawnee Herald.

Speaking of jay-walking, perhaps those offenders were like an Ada man who had occasion to be in Shawnee not long ago. He cut across the street and was called down for jay-walking. He insisted that after living in a town like Ada Shawnee had given him the impression that he was in a country village; hence his failure to observe the traffic regulations. The Shawnee policeman saw the force of the argument and sent him on his way a free man.

A press dispatch states that in an interview Mrs. Jake Hamon denies that she is going to marry a certain man who has been rather attentive to her of late. She says he is too handsome to make a good husband; that the homely guys make the best husbands. That statement brings a degree of comfort to the great majority of fellows who could never in the world qualify for a beauty contest. The fact is that most women share Mrs. Hamon's view, judging from the looks of the men they hook up with as life partners.

"Come on with that railroad strike," shouts the Enid Events. It goes on to say that the country has been threatened with a strike for a good many years in consequence of which business is being constantly disturbed and that it might as well be settled one way or the other once for all. In the long run it is the public that suffers most, and pays the bills, so the Events would like to see the situation stabilized no matter which way it goes.

Wizard Simmons has been to Washington, testified and gone. He made an admirable witness and his testimony succeeded in stopping congressional investigation. Whether one agrees with the Imperial Wizard or not, he must admit Colonel Simmons is considerably more than a figurehead in the Klan organization. He can hold his own in almost any company.

The News congratulates the High School football team upon its victories. The game Friday demonstrated that the team is composed of gentlemanly players and that they know the game from all of its angles. The result reflects much credit upon Coach Cox and the entire management of the City's educational institution.

This is circus day, and the kiddies are having the time of their lives. It is hoped that Ada becomes the home of all those shows told about Friday and the boys and girls will be well acquainted with the animals of the jungles as well as those native to Oklahoma.

Good road sentiment is increasing throughout the county, according to reports. Within a short time, Pontotoc will have roads that can be traversed by the vehicles of commerce in wet as well as dry weather.

A New Jersey man has invented a perpetual motion machine, which needs only $3,000 cash, he says, to start it going. Maybe he's right. You can start most anything with $3,000.

What has become of the Irish question? To our certain knowledge, this is about the first time in a year or more when it did not get front page notices.

The foot and mouth disease is not confined to cattle. We have seen many people who never open their mouths without putting a foot in.

The Indian summer weather continues, making it possible for the farmers to save all the cotton that was made. Corn and other crops are being harvested in perfect condition.

Much interest in paving is being manifested in many sections of the city. Ada will be a well streeted town yet. See if it doesn't.

Most any costume is just as modest as its wearer.

Professionalism Run Mad.
Tulsa World

More and more it is being remarked that professionalism is nothing more than unionism run mad. When nurses or school teachers organize themselves into a union and seek to dictate to humanity, where should they be placed—on a plane with ordinary unionism or on a plane very much lower?

The Chicago Journal of Commerce indulges in comments very pertinent:

"The nursing profession, long high in the estimation of the public because of its tender and valuable services to the sick, has become commercialized to such an extent that distinguished surgeons and physicians over the country are openly protesting against its exorbitations. Dr. Charles Mayo of Rochester, Minn., says publicly that 'the nursing union has come to be the most autocratic closed shop in the country,' and calls for 100,000 sub-nurses to relieve a desperate situation.

Greed is not uncommon anywhere; but one would not expect to find it in excessive degree among nurses, who have long been well paid. But Doctor Mayo, discussing the length the nursing union has gone in its demands, says:

"Seven dollars a day for an eight-hour day is more than exorbitant; it is prohibitive. It means that in cases of dangerous disease, where constant care and watching are necessary to save the life of patients, three nurses must be employed at a daily cost of $21. How can the man and woman afford to pay such charges? They cannot do so. Neither can the hospitals if they wish to keep open their doors."

It is a great pity that so honored a profession, one so loved by the public as a whole, should through a "union" organization, become oppressors of those in deep trouble, and turn their backs upon suffering they are trained to relieve unless paid highly excessive wages. No doubt women will be found to take the places of the ill-advised unions, which in some cases have declared strikes and deserted the sick in their charge. That is a shocking thing for them to do, one which the country condemns, and has already lost those who take part in the strikes, the respect and good will of the public.

The application is to professions of all kinds, and arouse the suspicion that professionals really seek to be classed as artisans of the union-labor type. Do they?

An Endless Chain.
Lawton Constitution

As the date nears for the conference on limitation of armaments the public is urged to make known its interests in the question to be taken up at this gathering. Very justly it is held by those who want tangible and practicable results to come from this conference, that only in the measure in which the people will make known their wants will such results be forthcoming.

A little primer lesson which might be considered as first aid to a better understanding of this great question of limiting armaments is to be gathered from a press dispatch from London. A dismal light is thrown on the question of war and waste by the report that the English admiralty is ready to sell a number of surplus obsolete warships at moderate prices.

The price to be paid for these ships seems to be of little consideration. "Cash payments," we learn, "are not insisted upon, and very attractive terms are offered." The only stipulation in the sale is that the warships are to be broken up immediately, with a view to providing jobs for some of England's unemployed.

With the motive that prompts the sale no one will find fault. Unemployed workers must be employed even if at nothing else than breaking up obsolete warships. But with the policy which first at a tremendous cost builds these warships, and then within a dozen years sells them at a great loss, to be broken up—with the continuance of such a policy it is difficult to keep from finding fault.

In an average life of 70 years, not counting the first 10, over 21 years are spent in sleep, over 16 in work, 11 months in dressing and undressing, and 7 months in church going, says one statistician.

FULL BLOOD INDIANS
DRIFT TO SOCIALISM

(By the Associated Press)

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Oct. 22.—Communism is the end toward which the lives of the Nighthawk branch of the Keetoowah, full blood society of the Cherokee Indians, are being shaped.

This communism, however, is but a means to the end when each shall own and cultivate his land intelligently, eventually, to take his place unrestricted alongside his pale face brother, because he will have no need for restriction, according to C. B. Cornelius, a full blood Oneida from Wisconsin, and industrial advisor to the Nighthawks.

Cornelius is a graduate of an agricultural school in Wisconsin, and has degrees in law and engineering besides. He came to the Nighthawks in 1916, and is given credit widely for what he calls "merely a plan which works as a father hopes to teach his family of sons how to become good farmers and good citizens. He keeps them with him on his farm until they learn to work, and then they are given farms of their own."

The advisor does not take credit for the plan himself, however. "Not at all," he says. "That originally was the plan of Chief Red Bird of the Nighthawks, who died before he could see his ideas recognized and the plans he had labored for a life time to perfect, consummated."

There are now six hundred pure bred Aberdeen Angus cattle, the communistic property of some three thousand Nighthawks. Cornelius says. As a start, 200 of these cattle were purchased, after a long council had been held at which Cornelius, John Smith, who was Red Bird Smith's son, William Rogers, Ode Hogshooter and his brother James, were active. This first investment was made in 1917.

Tribe borrows money.

Restrictions had to be removed on many of the holdings of the Indians, and money borrowed in the name of the Nighthawks. Here E. L. Graves, of Muskogee aided, by financing the first project.

"We are going back to communism, to go forward to the white man's civilization," he Nighthawks say. "Nothing personal is to be common property. Women will be respected—as they always have among the full bloods. The basis for our plan is common ownership of the land, and common workmanship. It is a school where we go to learn together what is right and what is not right in farming."

In the old days, according to Cornelius, the Cherokees had their farms and stocks.

"They long since had progressed past the stage of nomadic and pastoral customs, and were agriculturalists. After the white man came, they weakened, and until recently a majority of them were living on food which is not good for any man," he explained.

Besides the cattle, the community owns 2,700 hogs, with 47 registered sires.

PREPARATION LIGHT
FOR SOWING WHEAT

PAULS VALLEY, Oct. 22.—Very little wheat has been sown in Garvin county and little preparation has been made for the sowing according to the weekly report of A. T. Burge, county agent, sent to the state department of agriculture.

Practically 80 per cent of the cotton has been picked, he said, and a great deal of winter plowing remains to be done. Harvesting of sweet potatoes is practically over, and a fair yield reported.

Peanuts and pecans are yielding fairly heavy this year, and much interest is being manifested in a larger acreage of peanuts for the coming year, according to the agent's reports.

Liquor Charges Filed Against Two Men Who Testified On Stand

Liquor charges against Jim Good and Frank McClintock, both of Roff and both mentioned in charges of murdering George Martin at Roff last May, have been filed in the county court as the result of admissions made by both men on the stand during the trial of McClintock for the alleged murder that they had been engaged in the whiskey running business.

McClintock, who was found guilty by the jury in the murder charge and for whom a sentence of 25 years was recommended, told of driving Martin's car many times when intoxicating liquor was being brought to Roff. He is charged with transportation. Good said he had a stock of whiskey on hands at the time Martin was shot and moved it to a clump of bushes in the adjoining block to be clear in case a search of his house was made. He is charged with possession and transporting.

A charge of abandoning a wife and minor child has been filed in the county court recently against Ed Hughes.

High School Loser On Financial Side of Games This Year

Reports showing a loss of $54.45 on Friday's football game here between Ada high school and Purcell were given out this morning by A. L. Pentem, high school principal. Receipts of yesterday's game were $55 and the total cost $109.45. In only one of the three games this season has the Ada high made a profit on the game, that being in the opening battle with Sulphur here when receipts amounted to $60 and the cost was $32. In the Wapanucka game last week gate receipts were $12.50 and the cost was $56.

"I am sure few people know what it costs us to play good teams here," Mr. Pentem said. "The high school appreciates deeply the support that has been given us by loyal fans but our crowds should be better." In making up the schedule, only good teams were picked and these cost more to bring to Ada than others that could have been listed for the season, he said.

600,000 Railroad Workers On Record Against Strike

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—One-fourth of the railroad workers of America—the 600,000 members of the federated shop crafts—today went on record against the strike, and voted to remain at work pending a decision by the United States Labor board in the rules and working condition case.

By their decision they dealt the most serious blow yet received against the big four brotherhoods and the switchmen's union, which has ordered the strike for October 20. The shop crafts, known as the railroad employment department, American Federation of Labor, are said to control more rail workers than any union. Their action also is declared to bind the American Federation of Labor against any active support of the railroad walkout.

The shopcrafts, which embraces six unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, issued a statement declaring it was evident that the members of the big four brotherhoods would not cooperate with the other unions in event they struck.

To Await Decision. The statement issued by B. M. Jewell, president of the shop crafts, said the six unions would await the decision of railroad labor board in the pending rules and working case and they recognized general officers and decided on future action.

While the shop crafts were announcing their decision, events moved swiftly in widely separated sections of the effected strike territory.

The order of telegraphers, in session here, voted to join the strike, if it takes place, and pledged their support to the big four brotherhoods. Seventy-five thousand railroad telegraphers are affected.

Texas Men Strike. In Texas the trainmen of the International and Great Northern railroad carried out their strike at noon as authorized by W. G. Lee, their president, despite the order of the railroad labor board yesterday ordering them to remain at work and preserve the status quo.

The labor board, as press dispatches of the walkout were received, went into session to conclude what steps should be taken against the Texas trainmen.

Strikers Will Meet. SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 22.—Two hundred and fifty switchmen and brakemen of the International and Great Northern, San Antonio division, walked out exactly at noon today. There was no disorder and brotherhood officials called on Mayor Black, Sheriff Robin and Commissioner of Police and assured them that there would be no roudism. R. D. Frame, chairman of the committee of the brotherhood, again issued instructions to men to keep away from company property. A mass meeting of the strikers will be held at 2:0 this afternoon.

Stuessi, head of the sales promotion department of Kansas City wholesale paint works, who has been touring Oklahoma with a view to checking up on economic conditions.

Interior decoration and fall-cleanup campaigns have aided in relieving the depressed condition of the paint market, he said, and the outlook is for better sales until mid-winter.

ANGRY ELEPHANT ENGAGES HUNTER IN MERRY FIGHT

(By the Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 22.—A good elephant yarn is told by J. Morewood Dowsett, a well-known big game hunter, who has just returned from a hunting trip in South Africa.

He was hunting elephants in Uganda when information was brought him of the whereabouts of a large herd. With a native chief and a house boy, he started to find them.

The party came upon the herd in the forest. Mr. Dowsett got several photographs within 20 yards of the beasts when the chief warned him that they had been "seented" and that the animals were coming for them. Snatching up his rifle Mr. Dowsett shot and killed the leader, a big bull.

While some surrounded their dead leader, many of the beasts stampeded and running the wrong way, Mr. Dowsett was set off from the party. Reloading his gun, the hunter dashed off for safety and ran into a big bull elephant which crashed through the brush six yards in front of him.

Trunk aloft, ears extended and trumpeting wildly, the beast rushed at Mr. Dowsett and swept him to the ground with his trunk and turned rapidly in its own length ready to trample him.

The hunter took a flying dive under the monster's belly, realizing he would then be on the right side of the wind but the beast turned rapidly around and again tried to trample him. Instead the animal rolled him over and over with its legs and the hunter saw above him the two great tusks as the beast tried to maneuver his body into position and pick him up. Mr. Dowsett managed to roll behind the animal and get to his feet and make a rush for cover.

To the hunters' relief and surprise the furious beast set off in the opposition direction and disappeared.

PONTOTOC U. C. V. OFF FOR CATTANOOGA MEET

The Ada delegates and visitors to the convention will join the official Oklahoma train at Holdenville at midnight Sunday and will make a non-stop trip to the convention headquarters.

Only about eight veterans from this county will make the convention, a report made by Capt. W. H. Fisher today indicates. Many are in ill health, it was shown, and others who intended to go were held here by business connections.

COTTON COUNTY HERD GROWS FROM 94

WALTERS, Oct. 22.—C. G. McMillan of Cotton county started raising cattle several years ago, with two cows and one registered sire.

When Cleo L. Gibbs, county agent, passed McMillan's farm this week, he stopped and asked him how many cattle he had, and how they were progressing. He was shown 94 grade range cattle, and a bill of sale for 100 more, all the off-spring of the original herd of three.

Kanred Wheat Produces ALVA, Oct. 21.—Kanred wheat in woods county made an average of 35 bushels and 35 pounds to the acre on 125 acres owned by William Harzman, demonstration agent. Other Wheat from the same farm averaged 22 bushels, according to W. D. Kennon, county agent. The Kanred variety matured one week earlier than the other wheat this year, Harzman stated. He farms more than 500 acres of wheat yearly.

One advantage of the early maturity of Kanred this year, according to Harzman, was the fact that other wheat sustained losses from rains, but not having the advantage of early cutting.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

PROUD COWS.

"People may say what they like about cows, moo, moo," said Mrs. Cow. "Why may they?" asked Miss Cow. "Moo, moo, why may they?"

"I only stopped to take a little chew," said Mrs. Cow. "I wasn't through talking at all."

"Then continue, moo, moo," said Miss Cow.

"I'll begin all over again," said Mrs. Cow.

"Very well, moo, moo," said Miss Cow, "but don't stop where you did before. Wait until you get through, to chew."

"If I can wait that long," said Mrs. Cow, "I will do so. But at any rate, I will not stop at the same place in my conversation as I did before."

"People may say what they like about cows, moo, moo, but at any rate they cannot but say—" And Mrs. Cow began to chew again.

"Well, moo, moo, you got a little further along in your story that time," said Miss Cow, "but I'd like to hear more. Don't go back to the beginning again, but start where you left off."

"Can't do that," said Mrs. Cow, "but I will not chew until I finish this time. Or, at any rate, I will not chew so hard that I have to stop talking."

"I will keep on chewing and talking, and that will be pleasant."

"Of course," said Miss Cow, "I've heard the children say that it's polite to talk with one's mouth full. And your mouth is pretty full of grass now."

"I'll swallow some of it," said Mrs. Cow, "and then talk with my mouth half-full."

"I don't believe that is considered very polite either," said Miss Cow.

"Don't be too fussy," said Mrs. Cow. "Remember, my dear, I am only a cow."

"Only a cow, it is true," said Miss Cow. "Moo, moo, only a cow, it is true."

"I will tell my story right through this time," said Mrs. Cow, "and if I talk with some grass in my mouth and chew while I'm talking at times, you must remember I'm only a cow, and that you would do the same."

"I'll remember," said Miss Cow. "Moo, moo, I'll remember."

"Well," said Mrs. Cow, "to begin at the beginning once more."

"Oh, dear," said Miss Cow, "I do wish we could get on faster with the story."

"You mustn't say, 'Oh, dear,' to me," said Mrs. Cow. "You must say,

"When He Wasn't Looking."

"Oh, Cow." For I'm not a deer; I'm a cow."

"I didn't mean that kind of deer," said Miss Cow. "I meant, 'Oh, dear,' as an expression. It is spelled differently from the way the animal's name is spelled."

"Oh, all right," said Mrs. Cow.

"Well," she began again, after another pause during which she chewed very hard, "people may say what they like about cows, moo, moo, but at any rate they cannot but say that we are always among works of art. There, I finished that time."

"But I don't know what you mean," said Miss Cow.

"I mean," said Mrs. Cow, "that no one can go to an art gallery in which somewhere or other there aren't some paintings of cows."

"Yes, we're considered works of art. We're considered beautiful enough to paint. I've heard that at any picture gallery any of the people here have ever visited they have always seen some paintings of cows."

"That shows we're beautiful, for we have our pictures painted and are considered fine enough to be hung in art galleries."

Miss Cow shivered and her big eyes looked frightened.

"Oh, I don't mean we are hung in the art galleries, but the paintings of us are."

"I've seen an artist painting our meadow here, and I looked at his picture when he wasn't looking, and I saw a picture of myself there!"

"Perhaps he was too tired to paint anything any more exciting than a cow, but at any rate we had our pictures painted, and so, no matter what people say about our dullness, at least we are works of art."

PACIFIC PRESS MEETING OPENS

Countries Heading Now for Shoals Because of No Understanding.

HONOLULU, T. H., Oct. 21.—The Pan-Pacific Press Conference, concrete accomplishment of the present session of the Press Congress of the World, held its first meeting here today with the Pacific Journalists who attended the congress present.

The keynote of the new organization was sounded by Alexander Hume Ford, editor of the Mid-Pacific magazine and director of the Pan-Pacific union. His topic was "Why a Permanent Pan Pacific Press Conference."

"There is need, as never before, that the gatherings and disseminators of news in Pacific lands come to a better knowledge of each other's lands and problems," he said.

Don't Know Other Lands.

"The Australian journalist knows little of Japan; the American journalist is confused by the reams of propaganda that deluges him from the Orient; the Japanese press takes seriously the utterances of the American Jingo journalist and tries to out-jingo him. The Latin-American press is fairly well served so far as her northern neighbor is concerned, but little in other Pacific lands is known concerning the great South American continent."

"The result is that Pacific lands are suffering straight for the shoals of chronic misunderstanding and worse. Unfortunately, the great news distributing bodies of Europe and America play an influential part in keeping up Pan-Pacific misunderstanding. They control largely the dissemination of the world news to and between Pacific lands and because of their contracts, entered into long ago when news dissemination depended on now antiquated methods, and make practically impossible for the press of the Pacific to secure cheap and abundant news service to which the invention of the wireless entitles it. I learned when in Japan, from a director of The Associated Press, that owing to a contract between the American Associated Press and British Reuters's world news to Japan must go only through Reuters."

Java has asked that the Honolulu be made a drop station and that a man be stationed here to select from the drop service such news as each Pacific country may desire and forward it by wireless.

Press Must Arise.

"Who knows what may happen in the Pacific during the next few years if the press of the Pacific does not arise to its great duty and by truthful reporting dispel some of the misunderstandings that are arising because the press of the Pacific is not educating the people concerning each other's affairs?"

"Tributary to the shores of the Pacific lives more than half the population of the globe. The Pacific is the future theater of the commerce of the world. Here in the Pacific meet the oldest and newest civilizations. From now on the Pacific lands must feed the world. Lack of co-operation and understanding among Pacific peoples would prove the greatest calamity the world has known. The press of the Pacific alone can prevent this calamity and save the world. From now on the greater part of the world's people will have their homes in Pacific lands. Their leaders should be brought together for a better understanding of each other's aims and ambitions and the press should create—as it can—a patriotism of the Pacific."

"The men of the press in the Pacific, when they know each other, will learn to trust each other and in every Pacific land, they will strive to be worthy of this trust of their distant conferees and the serious problems of the Pacific will dissipate in fleecy clouds. Understanding will supersede misunderstanding if only our press of the Pacific will consummate its high mission.

"Perhaps there should be two distinct bodies in the Pan-Pacific Press Conference. One, a League of Pacific Newspapers composed of proprietors and the business staff that should outline the general business policy, deal with the cost of paper and news gathering, reducing their cost by co-operative methods and perhaps reducing the cost of international advertising to the advertisers through similar methods of co-operation among the business staffs of the newspapers and magazines published in Pacific lands. The other and more important body for the peace of the world at least, should be the actual disseminators of news and information concerning Pacific lands. They should meet together to know each other and to plan work that will make the people of each Pacific land know more about the people of other Pacific lands."

Seek Lower Wire Rates.

"The first action this body should take would be to obtain a reduction in the cable and wireless press rates between Pacific lands and actual free trade in wireless press correspondence, unhampered by any private or other contracts that would militate against the cheapest possible rates in the dissemination of international news and information."

"Franklin K. Lane, the late secretary of the Interior, former President Woodrow Wilson, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge and President Harding all have voiced the opinion that in the Pacific, having behind it thousands of years of traditions of peace, might be the logical birth place of a real league of nations. Who knows but that it may be the mission of the press of the Pacific to bring this about."

HOW U. S. PLANS TO ENFORCE LAW TOLD BY W. C. T. U.

(By the Associated Press)

MUSKOGEE, Oct. 21.—The government's facilities to enforce the national prohibition law were explained at the fourteenth annual convention of the Oklahoma Women's Christian Temperance Union, in session here, by Millard F. Meadows, of Oklahoma City, federal prohibition director for this state. Mr. Meadows addressed the convention's annual banquet on Thursday night. The convention was scheduled to conclude work Monday, October 23.

Saturday afternoon, Dr. Valeria H. Parker, superintendent of the social morality department of the national organization, and executive secretary of the United States Interdepartmental Social Hygiene Board, headquarters at Washington, will address the convention. Dr. Parker is in charge of a movement to establish W. C. T. U. activities in public schools and colleges. This movement has among its chief aims opposition to the use of cigarettes.

Mrs. Josephine H. Buhl of Tulsa, state president, presided at the annual banquet. Other speakers besides Mrs. Meadows were R. P. Harrison, city manager; Mrs. Phil Brown, state chairman of the Oklahoma League of Women Voters; Mrs. Gabe E. Parker, Prof. Charles B. Smith, the Rev. John L. Brandt, president of the Ministerial Alliance and Mrs. Abbie B. Hillman of Sapulpa, honorary state president.

Reports of the president and honorary president were submitted to the convention on the afternoon of the opening day. Officers are to be elected Friday morning and at the same time the confirmation of nomination for the Y. P. B. and L. T. L. will be made.

Delegates to the national convention and the world's convention also will be chosen at this session. Presentation of honors was scheduled for Friday afternoon and the place of the 1922 convention is to be decided Saturday afternoon. Musical and oratorical contests will feature Saturday night's program. On Sunday, visitors to the convention are to occupy the pupils of local churches.

BILIOUS CHILDREN

Black-Draught, Long in Successful Use, Praised by an Arkansas Mother, "Soon Does Its Work."

Marmaduke, Ark.—Speaking of Thedford's Black-Draught, which from long use in her household has become regarded as "the family medicine," Mrs. Mary E. Hill, of Route 1, this place, says:

"When the children get bilious, I give them a couple of good doses, and when we have sour stomach, headache, or any liver or stomach trouble, we use Black-Draught. It is an easy laxative, and soon does the work. I certainly think it is one of the best remedies made."

Black-Draught acts on the jaded liver, gently, but positively, and helps it in its important function of throwing out waste materials and poisons from the system."

In thousands of households Black-Draught is kept handy for immediate use in time of need. Prompt treatment often is half the battle, and will often prevent slight ills from developing into serious troubles."

Its well-established merit, during more than 70 years of successful use, should convince you of the helpful effects obtainable by taking Black-Draught for liver and stomach disorders. Get a package today, and keep it in your house. See that the package bears the words, "Thedford's Black-Draught." NC-147

NATIONAL GUARD TO START CLUBS OVER OKLAHOMA

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 22.—National Guard companies are to be used as the base for formation of company clubs throughout the state, with a membership in the guard being the only requisite for membership, according to a letter sent to all companies from the office of Col. J. P. O'Neil, senior instructor of the Oklahoma National Guard, made public here today.

"The club is a natural meeting place for different types of men and it is the genuinely American means of satisfying the ever present need for companionship and fellowship," Col. O'Neil wrote.

Club houses eventually are to be built, and all organizations are the control of clubs is to be in the hands of the men. The clubs are to be volunteer organizations, and modeled after various clubs existing in regular army life during the war and before.

A model constitution suggested by the senior instructor is: NAME: This organization shall be known as the Co. Club. OBJECT: The object of this club is to promote fellowship, our fellows, organization our calling and our country. It shall be an all-American non-sectarian and non-partisan in spirit and act. It shall work not only to provide amusement, education and development for its own members, but also to uphold the motto "What can I do to help my company, my army, my community and my country."

It is hoped, Colonel O'Neil said, to make the local club members of a state National Guard Club in the near future, and inter-club games, discussions and courtesies will be encouraged, the letter stated.

ROTATING CLOVER WITH KAFIR AND CORN TRIED

(By the Associated Press)

CLINTON, Oct. 21.—Joe Hatcher of Anthen, this county, is a believer of rotating maize kafir and corn with sweet clover, he says, allowing all the grain to be pastured.

He time and expense of spreading fertilizer and gathering the crop is eliminated, and the cattle fatten well. He now has a large herd of yearlings and a 2 year old cattle herd fattened for market, after pasturing them on maize for the summer and fall. His land is rough he says, but the four crops he mentioned will provide ample feed for the cattle.

For a small amount you can advertise your stuff in the Ada Evening News and sell direct to the consumer. Why not get the middle man's profit?

SHE TOOK HER FRIEND'S ADVICE

Now is in the Best of Health Because she took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Detroit, Mich.—"I was not feeling well for several years and never was able to eat any breakfast and always complained of a headache or tired feeling which at times required me to stop my work and rest. I have never had a physician and never took any medicine for it until yours was recommended to me by a neighbor whom I used to visit frequently. I took four bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I am in the best of health and enjoy doing my work every moment of the day. It surely put life and 'pep' into my system."—Mrs. L. M. DARRAS, 46 Howard St., Detroit, Michigan.

It is not always in business that a woman is forced to give up her work on account of ill health. It is quite as often the woman who does her own work at home. When backaches and headaches drive out all ambition, when that bearing-down sensation attacks you, when you are nervous and blue, the one great help for such ailments is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Hansen pastured twenty horses and cattle on ten acres of sweet clover all summer and at present the stand is about one foot high, he said. Three cuttings have been made, and an average of two tons to the acre obtained. Being troubled with washing and blowing, Hansen chose land where cane and millet stubble abounded, and drilled in his clover seed there, using about eight pounds per acre.

The seed should be planted about one inch deep, according to the county agent, and afforded all the protection possible as much trouble is encountered with the blowing out of the seed.

Milo planted by the same demonstrator, where he had clover for four years, made double the yield of similar land, though it washed considerably immediately following plowing.

SWEET CLOVER GROWS ON RED SHALE LANDS

TALOGA, Okla., Oct. 22.—Unusual results in growing sweet clover on red shale upland, with the land surmounting a ridge was reported to W. F. Porter, county agent of Taloga county, by Tom Hansen of Putnam, sweet clover demonstrator.

Ministry in Control. (By the Associated Press) LONDON, Oct. 20.—After a bloody revolution in Portugal, a ministry has been formed and is in full control at Lisbon, it is stated in dispatches received at the Portugal legation here today.

PATTERSON SPEAKS AT FRANCIS THURSDAY NIGHT

FRANCIS, Oct. 21.—(Special)—One of the largest audiences ever gathered here this year assembled at the Methodist church last night to hear Dr. N. P. Patterson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Ada, in an address on his recent trip to Ireland and his views on the Irish problem, now facing the English and Sinn Fein officials. Dr. Patterson's address was heard by an attentive audience, who greeted him with a warm welcome. His address is the first of its kind to be delivered here. Lack of seating space made it necessary for many to be turned away from the church door. He has delivered several such addresses at recent gatherings and the people of this district have been eager to get his explanation of the Irish question.

Does More For Less

THAT the Ford One-ton truck does more for the farmer or the merchant is proved by the great number of them now in daily use,—that it does this at less cost is shown by the actual figures—a smaller first cost and a much lower expense for operation and upkeep.

The Ford One-ton Truck has proved a great money saver, as well as a labor saver. It has solved the problems of economic transportation between the farm and the city.

The Ford One-ton truck has all the merits of the Ford car, with added strength for greater capacity. The worm drive of aluminum bronze gives unusual and positive power at a very low cost.

Come in and let us show you how the Ford One-ton Truck will help you and save you money in your work.

IMPORTANT

We are prepared to furnish the Ford Truck equipped either with Standard or Special Gearing. The Standard Gearing gives the truck a maximum of power. The Special Gearing increases the speed of the truck from five to seven miles an hour, converting it into a Fast Delivery Car.

CHEROKEE LEADERS NOW SEEK HARMONY

MUSKOGEE, Oct. 22.—Those who are following the affairs of the Cherokee Indians profess to see in the announcement of Levi Gritts, chief of the Katoowahs, incorporated, Nighthawk Meetoowahs, the Cherokee Provisional Committee, the Delaware and the Eastern and Western Cherokees, an effort to bring harmony into the ranks of the various factions of this tribe which has important claims pending before the federal government.

For the past many years the tribe has been torn in international distinction which, according to some members, may jeopardize the success of claims pending, and which involve approximately fifteen million dollars.

Chief Gritts has let it be known that he favors a conference of representatives of the Cherokee factions and organizations and to expedite a peaceful settlement he proposes to resign his office, which he says appears to be merely an honorable one, since the abolition of tribal government.

The authority of Gritts has been a matter for dispute ever since he was chosen chief.

One of the strongest anti-Gritts organizations is headed by John M. Taylor of Claremore, and Jim Hilbrand of Delmar county. Taylor recently filed a suit in the district court at Washington claiming several hundred thousand acres of land in Oklahoma and Texas, on behalf of the Cherokees. His authority to do so is disputed by the Gritts organizations while the Taylor Hilbrand organization dispute the authority of Frank J. Boudinot of Fort Gibson to represent the Cherokees.

In Washington, Boudinot is the "duly appointed representative of the Cherokees through their principal chief," a title which Gritts claims.

"So far as this or any other organization is concerned," Gritts is quoted as saying, "I have no grievance I do not claim to be chief over any individual or group in the Cherokee nation. I am chief only of those who elected me. It has been represented to me that the bodies who elected in represent the majority of the Cherokees. It will be any benefit to the people of my tribe and if it will help them to get together for me to resign my position as leader I will be delighted to do so."

Kansas Pioneers Find Their 'Fountain of Youth' Nestled On Farm Out in the West

(By the Associated Press)

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Oct. 22.—Joel and James Cheatwood, 90 years old, who came to Kansas more than sixty years ago, declare they found on their Leavenworth county farms the "fountain of youth." Any one may find it, most anywhere, if he seeks it before he is overcome by years, these pioneers agree. There is nothing mysterious about their youth retaining recipe—it's just common, every day, hard work.

The Cheatwood "boys" recently celebrated their nineteenth birthday with a genuine party. Relatives and friends from far and near gathered at Joel's home. The two hosts appeared in the best of health and humor. So closely do they resemble each other that it is difficult to tell them apart. They are the oldest twins in Kansas, they assert.

"We'll be having other birthday parties," remarked Joel. "Then ten years from today we will be inviting you all to come help us celebrate when we start a new century."

"I believe I've worked as hard as any man that ever crossed the Missouri river," continued Joel. "If it wasn't for work, I'd have been dead long ago. Have to keep on working to keep up my strength and because I like to."

The brothers may be seen daily working in their fields. They day before the party for instance, Joel put in a full day's work mowing weeds, getting land prepared for sowing wheat. Jim cleaned up a twenty acre field by burning off dry grass.

Will Not Retire.

"Never seriously considered retiring," declared Jim. "I try to get all the joy I can out of life. That's why I keep on working, because I like it. Couldn't stand loafing day in and day out. I can do as much work in a day right now as some of these 'young.'"

The Cheatwood Twins were born in Stokes county, North Carolina, Oct. 11, 1831. Joel located in Kansas in 1857 and in 1865 purchased 193 acres of land in this county, which continues to be his home. Since then he has bought an additional 127 acres, making a total of 320 acres. Mrs. Joel is ten years her husband's junior. They have seven children—two of them twin daughters now 53 years old; ten grand children and four great grand children. Mr. and Mrs. Joel celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary last January 20.

Jim Cheatwood came to Kansas a year before his brother, in 1856. He has no children. Of his 65 years residence in the Sunflower state, he has lived 63 in Leavenworth county on the same farm.

"I have sold off several hundred acres of land and kept just enough to keep me busy," Jim related. "I have fifty acres left; just about right to keep me out of mischief"—with a merry twinkle in his eye. "Farm hands are hard to get and not very satisfactory. I'd rather do the work myself."

The brothers' farms are little more than a mile apart. Almost daily they exchange visits, the intervening distance still being considered "just a little walk" by them. Neither ever has had any use for a cane and they read the daily newspapers without glasses. Both Jim and Joel have a penchant for humor. Attired in their "Sunday clothes" at the party, their long beards, facial countenance and general stature being as much alike as two peas in a pod, they found much amusement in the apparent difficulty of their guests had in determining whether they were addressing Jim or Joel.

Muskogee Club Hits Gov. Robertson For Slap at Booze Act

(By the Associated Press)

Robertson delivered October 3 before the Rotary club of Muskogee in which he was quoted as having denounced the Volstead Act, was scored in a resolution passed yesterday by the Muskogee Women's Republican club that declared: "We do most absolutely and vehemently condemn the utterance of Governor Robertson and the attitude of the governor and the state administration toward the enforcement of the Volstead and other national and state laws for prohibition of the liquor traffic."

CAPTURE OF MANY STILL EXPECTED FROM U. S. AGENTS

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Numerous arrests on charges of bribery and conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws are expected to be made within the next few days in New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, it was learned today at the prohibition headquarters.

The arrests, prohibition officials declared, would be based on evidence found by enforcement agents who raided the Baltimore offices of Samuel Albrecht, charged in New York with an attempt to offer a $50,000 bribe to E. C. Yellowley, acting state prohibition director of New York.

Capture of Ninety distilleries in Maryland and Kentucky, officials said, was expected to follow the arrests, evidence having been found, it was added, showing withdrawal of large amounts of liquors. Names of the distilleries were not disclosed but it was indicated several in the vicinity of Baltimore were involved.

JUST FUN

Spending Other People's Money.

"Did you see Senator Snorts-worth?"

"Yes," said the constituent who was stranded in Washington. "Precious little good it did me."

"He didn't help you out, eh?"

"No. He'd just helped to pass a $50,000,000 appropriation, but he couldn't lend me $50 to pay my way back home."

Explicit.

McNab (conductor of our village orchestra)—An' you, Sandy, will take the double bass this time.

Sandy—I dinna play the double bass. I dinna ken the fingerin'.

McNab—Fingerin'! There's no fingerin' wi' a double bass. You just play it in handfuls!—Passing Show, London.

Candid Appreciation.

"Your country should be grateful for your services."

"Well," replied Senator Sorghum, "my country has had the benefit of my best efforts. But it has shown me enough kindness to prevent me from trying to convey the impression that the obligation is all on one side."

No Cranking for Her.

"I want to look at a car."

"Yes, ma'am," said the suave salesman. "We handle positively the best automobile in the world. Is there any particular style you want?"

"No; I'm not particular about the style, just so it's a self-beginner."

Complimentary Speaking.

He—Just imagine that fresh guy telling me that I change opinions as often as I change my shirts.

She—Why, that's complimenting you on your sense of cleanliness.

Wall Street Conversation.

Jack—Have you quit speculating?

Bill—No. At present I'm speculating as to how I shall avoid bankruptcy.

RESIGNATION

Mrs. Knagg—If you had your life to live over again you'd probably make the same mistakes.

Her Husband—Probably. And if I did marry some other woman she'd doubtless turn out the same.

Drat Her.

Mary had a little cook With hands as white as snow, And everywhere that Mary went The cook refused to go.

A Doubtful Compliment.

The lights were low, and stillness reigned in the back parlor. Presently a female voice was heard: "Freddie, dear!"

"Yes, angel."

"Does my head seem heavy on your shoulder?"

"No, darling. It is very light, indeed!"

The Eternal Feminine.

Old Gentleman—If I give you a quarter, little girl, what will you do with it?

Six-Year-Old Miss (contemptuously)—Why, spend it, of course.

Old Gentleman—And what will you buy, a peppermint stick?

Six-Year-Old—No, a lip stick.

The Last Straw.

It was a cruel shaft that a Philadelphia girl shot at a persistent suitor of hers. "They say," he observed, "that people who live together get to look alike."

"Then," said the girl firmly, "you must consider my refusal as absolutely final."

Valuable Discipline.

"Josh says he's going to take up aviation."

"If he does," replied Farmer Corn-tassel, "he'll learn to be a heap more careful about keepin' machinery in repair than he ever was while workin' around the farm."

No Wonder.

"Talking about attracting attention, here is a girl in Pennsylvania who has been striking men forcibly by her appearance."

"Does she fascinate them?"

"No; she sandbags them."

Of Course.

"Hello, Jim, I hear you were sick."

"Yes, I was threatened with a fever, but the doctor succeeded in arresting it."

"Ah, he arrested it for making threats, I suppose."

Evening Up.

"How can Jobson cut up so with his poor wife in a sanitarium?"

"He considers himself and his wife one, and he is having as much fun as possible to make up for her lack of it."
